

Bounded Rationality: Theory and Experiments

December 11-13, 2022

Collier School of Management, Tel Aviv University

Conference Program

Sunday, December 11, 2022 | Recanati 405

- 8:30-9:00 Registration and Refreshments
- 9:00-9:05 Opening remarks
- 9:05-09:50 Philippe Jehiel, Paris School of Economics and Department of Economics, University College London
Calibrated Clustering and Analogy-based Expectation Equilibrium
- 09:50-10:35 Yuval Salant, Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University
Complexity and Choice
- 10:35 -11:00 Coffee Break
- 11:00 -11:45 Sevgi Yuksel, Department of Economics, University of California Santa Barbara
Entropy and Demand for Information
- 11:45-12:30 Yoram Halevy, Department of Economics, University of Toronto
Magic Mirror on the Wall: Who is the Smartest One of All?
- 12:30-14:30 Lunch & Poster Session
- 14:30-15:15 Duarte Gonçalves, Department of Economics, University College London
Sequential Sampling Equilibrium
- 15:15-16:00 David Dillenberger, Department of Economics, University of Pennsylvania
Cautious Utility and Reference Effects
- 16:00-16:30 Coffee Break
- 16:30-17:15 Nagore Iriberry, Department of Economic Analysis, University of the Basque Country
Do Nonstrategic Considerations Matter for Behavior in Games? An Experimental Study Informed by Direct-sum Decompositions of Games
- 17:15-18:00 Jeanne Hagenbach, Department of Economics, Sciences Po Paris
Motivated Skepticism
- 18:30-21:00 Dinner and Networking | El Vecino Restaurant, 192 Ibn Gabirol Street, Tel Aviv

Monday, December 12, 2022 | Recanati 405

9:00-9:30 Refreshments

9:30-10:15 Shachar Kariv, Economics Department, University of California Berkeley
Ever Since Allais and Ellsberg

10:15-11:00 Sarah Ridout, Department of Economics, Vanderbilt University
A Theory of Ex-Post Rationalization

11:00-11:30 Coffee Break

11:30 -12:15 Paul Heidhues, Düsseldorf Institute for Competition Economics (DICE), University of Düsseldorf
Misinterpreting Yourself

12:15 -13:00 Kfir Eliaz, School of Economics, Tel Aviv University
False Narratives and Political Mobilization

13:00-14:30 Lunch

14:30-15:15 Ayala Arad, Collier School of Management, Tel Aviv University
An Experimental Analysis of the Prize-Probability Tradeoff in Stopping Problems

15:15-16:00 Victoria Prowse, Department of Economics and the Krannert School of Management, Purdue University
Cognitive Skills, Strategic Sophistication, and Life Outcomes

16:00-16:30 Coffee Break

16:30-18:00 Panel Discussion: Bounded Rationality - Theory and Experiments

- * Itzhak Gilboa, School of Economics, Tel Aviv University and Economics and Decision Sciences, HEC Paris
- * Yoram Halevy, Department of Economics, University of Toronto
- * Ariel Rubinstein, School of Economics, Tel Aviv University and Department of Economics, New York University
- * Rani Spiegler, School of Economics, Tel Aviv University and Department of Economics, University College London

Tuesday, December 13, 2022 | Trip to Jerusalem, meeting near Gate 4, Tel Aviv University

9:00 A trip to Jerusalem and networking / Meeting near Gate 4, Tel Aviv University, George S. Wise Street

Organizing Committee: Yair Antler and Ayala Arad

The workshop is supported by the Solomon Lew Center for Consumer Behavior center and by funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation programme under Grant Agreement No 952574.